Eva's Imagination
By Wenda Shurety & Illustrated by Karen Erasmus
Publisher: New Frontier Publishing
ISBN 9781912076192 SCIS: 1888464
$24.99

Eva doesn't know what an imagination is.

With the help of her dog, Chops, Eva goes on a hunt to find it. A delightful story about the power of imagination.

Themes:
- Imagination
- Overcoming Boredom
- Amusing Yourself
- Creativity

Discussion Questions:
- How many times do you think you have said the same words that Eva did, ‘Mum, I’m BORED’?
- What does your Mum or Dad normally say to you?
- What did Eva’s Mum say to her?
- Do you know what an ‘imagination’ is? What are some examples?
- How would you describe it to someone who didn’t know what it was?
- Who did Eva take with her to try and find her imagination?
- What things did they take with them?
- Make a list and draw a picture of all the things that you would take with you. Make a note explaining why you would take them.
- Where did Eva and Chops first go to try and find Eva’s imagination?
- If you were exploring your own house for your imagination, what things and places do you think you would come across? Be creative and use your imagination!
- As a class, using the front cover and the shadow scenes from the story as ideas, experiment with light and shapes to make your own shadow pictures.
- Discuss as a class what are some other things that you can do to stop yourself being bored.
- From your discussions, make a list of your favourite three and over the coming weeks, give each one of these ideas a go to see how fun they can be.
- Paint your favourite scene from the story, with Chops being the central character in your picture.
- Do you think that Eva knew that she had already found her imagination by going on the adventure with Chops? Discuss this as a class.